DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on March 25th, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant disagrees with the examiner statement "it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art the time the invention was made to include control connected to the heater to maintain the coolant at an optimum temperature for evaporation by the evaporator, since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective involves only routine skill in the art". Upon further reviewing the applicant's specifications (page 6 lines 26-28) the examiner noticed that in the specification the applicant states "the optimum temperature depends on such factors as the type of evaporator; the type of coolant; and the pressure of the liquid coolant as it enters the evaporator". Since the applicant has not established any criticality, it is obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art that discovering an optimum temperature/ value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art.

In conclusion, claims 9, 10, 15, 17, 21, and 23 through 30 are still rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as stated in the previous office action dating January 21st, 2004. Claims 1, 3 through 8, and 12 through 14 are allowed as stated in the previous office action dating January 21st, 2004.

Conclusion

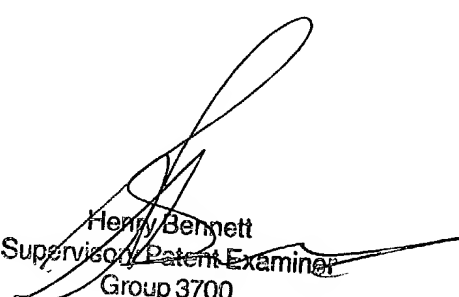

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
